Brandwashed. Martin Lindstrom. 2011-09-28. A shocking insider's look at how global giants conspire to obscure the truth and manipulate our minds. Marketing visionary Martin Lindstrom has been on the front lines of the branding wars for over twenty years. Here, he turns the spotlight on his own industry, drawing on all he has witnessed behind closed doors, exposing for the first time the full extent of the psychological tricks and traps that companies devise to win our hard-earned dollars. Picking up from where Vance Packard's bestselling classic, The Hidden Persuaders, left off more than half a century ago, Brandwashed reveals: New findings that reveal how advertisers and marketers intentionally target children at an alarmingly young age. This is what the marketing world really think about when they see sexy provocatively advertising (hint: it isn't their girlfriend's). How marketers and retailers store the flames of public panic and capitalize on paranoia over global conspiracies, extreme weather events, and food contamination scares. The first ever neuroscientific evidence proving how addicted we are to our iPhones and our Blackberry's (and the shocking reality of the phone addiction epidemic - it can be harder to share than addiction to drugs and alcohol). How companies of all stripes are secretly mining our digital footprints to uncover some of the most intimate details of our private lives, then using that information to target us with ads and offers 'perfectly tailored' to our psychological profiles. How certain companies, like the maker of one popular lip balm, purposely adjust their formulas in order to make their products chemically addictive. What a 3 month long guerrilla marketing experiment, conducted specifically for this book, tells us about the most powerful hidden persuader of them all. And much, much more.

High and Mighty Keith Bradsher 2004-01-19 SUVs have taken over America’s roads. Ad campaigns promote them as safer and “quicker” than ordinary cars and easy to handle in bad weather. But very little about the SUV’s image is accurate. They poorly protect occupants and inflict horrific damage in crashes, they guzzle gasoline, and they are hard to control on the highway. They have been the culprits behind increased risk of injuries and cancer, then how is it that giraffes get by? And why is it that society reverses tall stature but then compromises our safety with cramped cars and other things? And, as tall women might be pondering, why can women who are 6 feet tall walk through doorways that are 6 feet high and cars that are 5 feet tall?
