Alex Scarrow How they each choose to respond to the virus, will ultimately decide their fate in Plague World, the apocalyptic finale to the Remade trilogy from bestselling author of the TimeRiders series, Alex Scarrow. In 2026, the world was hit by a global pandemic that was brought on by climate change and overpopulation. Only three survivors made it through the pandemic: the TimeRiders Court, Court, and Maddy, who now have a stranglehold on the future of civilization have flexed their muscles before, at other significant tipping points in history, and they are prepared to do it again. In 1937, the TimeRiders made their first appearance, in The Key to the Past, and since then they have been fighting to prevent time travel from destroying the future. Now, in Plague World, they must face their greatest challenge ever. To save the world, they must stop the virus that is spreading through the world. But the virus is more dangerous than anyone could have imagined. The TimeRiders must work together to find a way to stop the virus before it is too late. And if they fail, the world as we know it may be lost forever.
