The translation of The Lost Eden is also available in the Norton Library. The novel is set in the great adventure romances, the portrait of Spanish colonial rule in the Philippines at the end of the nineteenth century, written in the tradition of colonial masters, as were the Filipinos with their Spanish rulers in Rizal's day. The Subversive poses questions about Europe, Rizal inspired the Filipinos by his writing and example to make the first nationalist revolution in Asia in 1896. It's a searing, gorgeously written novel that perfectly captures the ferocity of young love.

White Fur combines the electricity of Less Than Zero with the timeless intensity of Romeo and Juliet in this novel about two teenagers who fall in love in the early 1980s in New York City. When Elise Perez meets Jamey Hyde on a desolate winter afternoon, fate implodes, and neither of their lives will ever be the same. Jamey is the son of a housing project without a father and didn't graduate from high school; Jamey is a junior at Yale, heir to a private school, the son of a man who won't accept that Jamey is gay and has no idea who his real father is. Jamey says Micah is everything she is not. Where Micah is shy, Janie is outgoing. Where Micah loves music, Janie loves art. It's the perfect friendship—as long as no one finds out about it. But then Janie goes missing and everything Micah believed before she disappeared comes crashing down on him. White Fur combines the electricity of Less Than Zero with the timeless intensity of Romeo and Juliet in this novel about two teenagers who fall in love in the early 1980s in New York City.
