Garnet Hall 2016-09-02 Alan Livingston thought he had everything figured out. Graduate from college, off into life and eventually into politics. Until financial reality set in and he had to drop out after only two years. His goals were out of reach and options were few and far between. He worked for a time for a while, but tried everything from tree cutting to being a bouncer. Nothing stuck. Finally, he landed something with interesting and challenging. Alan was skilled in a way he a private investigator. Respect for people, an unassuming manner, resourcefulness and a knack for finding the truth. Things might work out for all. There was a call in the middle of the night. At the airport in Lexington, Kentucky, Alan grabs his suitcase and rushes to get a car to investigate - a plane crash? What he finds will stay with him a long time.
