Author Q & A

For me, everything starts with place and time. Then comes character. That's not exactly an original thought on my part—it's kind of a tradition in Southern fiction. But I do believe that everything starts with place—the place where you live, the place you love best, or maybe even the place you dread most—any of those can determine so much

MY MOTHER NEVER WORKED - Crosby Independent School ...

During the next spring their hogs caught cholera and died. No cash that fall. And in the next year the drought hit. My mother and father trudged from the well to the chickens, the well to the calf pasture, the well to the barn, and from the well to the garden. The sun came out hot and bright, endlessly, day after day. The crops shrivelled and died.
