Murder on the Isle of Capri
THIS BOOK will keep you on the edge of your cozy reading chair: An Italian friend and colleague of Criminology Professor Marin Ryan dies in an accidental fall. The community in Genoa is devastated by the tragic end of a beloved father, grandfather, and loving husband. Marin and John Hunter are equally in sorrow as they walk down the street in the classic Italian burial procession. The wife wants Marin to finish a project her husband had been working on for their grandson—a historical book on sixteenth-century pirates. Honored, she agrees. Marin review her friend’s notes to discover his disturbing connection between those historical pirates and three present-day wealthy families. It’s a secret the patriarchs kill to keep. Was her friend’s death an accident? John and Marin journey across the Atlantic and the Pacific in an attempt to know the truth. The more they find, the more they are at risk. At each stop, from Italy to New York to Hawaii and back, they are in the sights of the modern pirates. Over 1000 reviews across all book sites: 79% 5 star. Reader Review: “This was a vacation in a book.” Reader Review: “This should be a movie.” Reader Review: “I think I felt every kick, punch, and sword cut! LOVED IT!!!!”. Blood of the Caesars Stephen Dando-Collins 2008-02-26 Describes how the assassination of Germanicus Caesar, one of ancient Rome's greatest heroes, the grandson of Mark Antony, brother of Claudius, father of Caligula, and grandfather of Nero, set the stage for a brutal series of events that eventually led to the fall of Rome, in a study that investigates this ancient murder mystery. Capri Diem: Love and Death on Capri Cecilia Storhaug 2019-02-28 CAPRI - THE ISLAND OF DREAMS is the dramatic setting for the story of a brilliant, but philandering local hero who pursues justice, redemption and the miracle of love. - From the Norwegian author Cecilia Storhaug, a resident of Capri for thirty years, comes a captivating mystery novel filled with action, romance, and a cliff-hanging resolution. - CAPRI DIEM is illustrated with color images of paintings by UGO di MARTINO; a well-known artist from the Island of Capri. - At the height of the tourist season, Camilla, a free-spirited Norwegian widow with a residence on Capri, is found dead on the craggy limestone cliffs rising above the sea. San Francisco insurance investigator Max returns to his island roots with a mission to find evidence to confirm Camilla's death; her life insurance policy has a non-payment clause for suicide. The beneficiary of the two-million-dollar claim is Camilla's beautiful younger sister Katarina, who is visiting her sister on the island. With a financial motive and no alibi, Katarina becomes the prime suspect in this page-turning drama. - As the plot unfolds, readers get an insider's tour of the spectacular scenery, ancient historic sites, and the glamorous playground for the rich and famous; the artists and romantics who for centuries have been drawn to Capri's magnificent scenery.
and the gentle hospitality of its people. - The title CAPRI DIEM, coined from the Latin aphorism Carpe Diem, reflects the philosophical theme of the book: "Live every day as if it was your last, in search of joy and beauty. When you find beauty, you desire to be part of it forever." - Cecilia's novel is inspired by her love for the island and people of Capri. Born and raised in Norway, the author divides her time between Norway, California, and Capri, where she has owned a home for over 30 years. The author promotes the ART, CULTURE, and NATURE on CAPRI on her website: WWW.CAPRIDIEM.NET The Frederick Douglass Papers Frederick Douglass 2022-01-11 The journalism and personal writings of the great American abolitionist and reformer Frederick Douglass Launching the fourth series of The Frederick Douglass Papers, designed to introduce readers to the broadest range of Frederick Douglass's writing, this volume contains sixty-seven pieces by Douglass, including articles written for North American Review and the New York Independent, as well as unpublished poems, book transcriptions, and travel diaries. Spanning from the 1840s to the 1890s, the documents reproduced in this volume demonstrate how Douglass's writing evolved over the five decades of his public life. Where his writing for publication was concerned mostly with antislavery advocacy, his unpublished works give readers a glimpse into his religious and personal reflections. The writings are organized chronologically and accompanied by annotations offering biographical information as well as explanations of events mentioned and literary or historical allusions. Naples and Southern Italy Edward Hutton 1915 KL Nikolaus Wachsmann 2015-04-14 The award-winning author of Hitler's Prisons presents an unprecedented, integrated account of the Nazi concentration camps from their inception in 1933 through their...

Death Like Me Monaldi SORTI 2016-07-16 SPECIAL ILLUSTRATED EDITION. The Island of Capri, August 1939. Italy in the grip of Fascism, the Second World War looming. At a dazzling party under the stars mingling aristocrats, Nazi officers and American millionaires, the writer, ladies' man and Fascist loose cannon, Curzio Malaparte (1898-1957) - at that time internationally renowned - is accosted by Mussolini's secret police: someone has accused him of murder, the killing of a young English girl, a poet, who had mysteriously fallen from a cliff a few years before - a fall that actually did happen. Malaparte decides to go on the run: helped by a few trusted friends (a spendthrift prince, a Camorra man, an eccentric painter and his inseparable dog Febo) he finds himself embroiled in an impossible investigation. Who's trying to frame him? Could it be that SS officer shadowed by his bloodthirsty Doberman? And what has the terrible (and true) secret hidden in Adolf Hitler's past to do with the plot against him? Struggling to stay a step ahead of the nightmare that's bearing down on him, the writer is forced to live by his wits, depending on a charming girl with unsuspected talents and the providential assistance of an American journalist, the perfect gentleman, destined to head US military intelligence in Europe. The setting: Capri's landscapes and the house Malaparte is building atop one of the island's most spectacular cliffs. All the while, champagne corks pop, the band plays on, and Europe's high society drifts helplessly to its doom. But Malaparte won't play that game: no passive victim, he's determined to save his skin, like his mind, still painfully scarred by a war hero's wounds from over two decades before. Yet that's by no means all there is to it. Readers will soon find themselves up against far more than a mere literary fiction: the tale Malaparte is telling covers his entire past life; more than just a novel, he's responding to the challenge of a lifetime. Only at the very end shall we know if he has lived up to it, or failed. A huge success among readers and critics, DEATH LIKE ME won the Noir Mediterraneo prize for crime novels and was shortlisted at both the Acqui Storia historical fiction competition and the Premio Strega, the most important Italian literary award. The wife and husband team, Rita Monaldi and Francesco Sorti, have published ten books to date, international best sellers translated into 26 languages and appearing in 60 countries, including the five novels featuring Atto Melani (Pistoia 1626 - Paris 1714): Imprimatur, Secretum, Veritas, Mysterium and Dissimulatio. They also edited Secrets of the Conclaves, a secret report by Atto Melani which they unearthed in a Parisian library. The couple live between Vienna and Rome with their children. For many years, the notorious political and publishing intrigues surrounding the publication of Imprimatur kept Monaldi & Sorti's books out of Italy. The Best Films of Our Years M. Owen Lee 2007 The Best Films of Our Years is an affectionate and witty traversal of the history of the movies year-by-year by an author whose style has been called "finely crafted" (America), "highly readable" (Choice), and "often irreverently amusing" (Opera News). In the 1970s, when he was lecturing on film, Father Owen Lee was able to speak with and learn from such movie people as Pauline Kael, Robert Altman, Francis Ford Coppola, and Roberto Rossellini. In this book he provides thumbnail reviews of ten -- arguably the best ten -- movies of each year from 1935 (when he began his movie going) to the present. There is a preliminary section commenting on fifty important films that preceded 1935. And there is a closing section with longer chapters on "the ten best films of all our years", among them Grand Illusion, Rashomon, and Lawrence of Arabia. The book's title rings a change on William Wyler's The Best Years of Our Lives (1946).

She intersperses the story of her life with an examination of her writing, drawing parallels between Perry's own experiences and her characters and storylines. The Search for Anne Perry is a gripping account of a life, and provides understanding of the girl Anne was, the adult she became, her compulsion to write, and her view of the world"—
