Everything Origami Set
Matthew Gardiner 2015-07-15 The Japanese art of origami can be used to make incredible creations out of paper, including dinosaurs, animals, and flowers. Readers learn basic origami techniques and then build on those skills as they create impressive works of art. By following each series of simple, numbered steps, readers are able to take a piece of paper and turn it into a paper crane or even a mouse! Colorful illustrations guide readers through each origami project, and examples of each finished product help them visualize what their creations will look like as they follow each step. Step-by-step instructions clearly illustrate how to make each project. Introductions before each set of instructions offer fun facts about that animal, dinosaur, or object. Presents an interactive, creative way for readers to learn about an important part of Japanese culture and art. Introduces procedural language.

Sadako's Cranes
Judith Loske 2015-09-01 A timeless story, beautifully told and illustrated by Judith Loske. Based on the true story of Sadako Sasaki, who lived in Hiroshima when the atomic bomb was dropped on August 6, 1945, Sadako's Cranes tells the story of her battle with leukemia. When Sadako hears of a Japanese legend which says that a person who folds 1,000 paper cranes is granted a wish, she begins folding cranes. Her wish was simply to live. Loske's beautiful illustrations are based on colored-pencil drawings that have been digitally processed.

The Complete Story of Sadako Sasaki
Masahiro Sasaki 2020-04-07 For the first time, middle readers can learn the complete story of the courageous girl whose life, which ended through the effects of war, inspired a worldwide call for peace. In this book, author Sue Dicocco and Sadako's older brother Masahiro tell her complete story in English for the first time—how Sadako's courage throughout her illness inspired family and friends: and how she became a symbol of all people, especially children, who suffer from the impact of war. Her life and her death carry a message: we must have a wholehearted desire for peace and be willing to work together to achieve it. Sadako Sasaki was two years old when the atomic bomb was dropped on her city of Hiroshima at the end of World War II. Ten years later, just as life was starting to feel almost normal again, this athletic and enthusiastic girl was fighting a war of a different kind. One of many children affected by the bomb, she had contracted leukemia. Patient and determined, Sadako set herself the task of folding 1000 paper cranes in the hope that her wish to be made well again would be granted. Illustrations and personal family photos give a glimpse into Sadako's life and the horrors of war. Proceeds from this book are shared equally between The Sadako Legacy NPO and The Peace Crane Project.
