Eventually, you will agree there's a ring leader and he'd like to be a member of the band, making band a vibrant and engaging environment for all members to participate in. The word 'band' means just that! Band - a group of people who come together to create music. The key is inclusion. The goal of this initiative is not only to provide a place for people with disabilities to participate in music, but also to create a sense of community and belonging for all participants.

For more information, please visit the band's website (www.ourband.com) or contact us at info@ourband.com. Together we can make music and create a better world for all.
