The little world of Malgudi, an imaginary town in South India. Nataraj and his close friends, a poet and a journalist, speak to dig deeper in their understanding by including essay questions and answers as well as topics for further research.

The Scarlet Letter
Hawthorne 2006-05
The extraordinary, groundbreaking novel from Laura Halse Anderson, with more than 2.5 million copies sold! The first ten lies they tell you in high school. "Speak up for yourself—we want to know what you have to say." From the first moment of her freshman year at Merryweather High, Melinda knows this is a big lie, part of the nonsense of high school. She is friendless, outcast, because she busted an end-of-summer party by calling the cops, so now nobody will talk to her, let alone listen to her. As time passes, she becomes increasingly isolated and practically stops talking altogether. Only her art class offers any solace, and it is through her work on an art project that she is finally able to face what really happened at that terrible party: she was raped by an upperclassman, a guy who still attends Merryweather and is still a threat to her. Her healing process has just begun when she has another violent encounter with him. But this time Melinda fights back, refuses to be silent, and thereby achieves a measure of vindication.

The Man-eater of Malgudi
R. K. Narayan 1993-05-01
This is the story of Nataraj, who earns his living as a printer in the town of Malgudi. His life is otherwise peaceful except for his dancing-women up the printer's private stairs. When Vasu, a powerful taxidermist, moves in with his stuffed hyenas and pythons, and brings his dancing-women up the printer's private stairs. When Vasu, in search of larger game, threatens the life of a temple elephant that Nataraj has befriended, complications ensue that are both laughable and tragic.
