Language, Culture, and Evolutional Phonetic Processes Robert K. Herbst 1986-01-01 TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS is a series of books that open new perspectives in our understanding of language. The series publishes state-of-the-art monographs, books and articles on theoretical and practical frameworks as well as studies that provide new insights by building bridges to neighbouring fields such as neuroscience and cognitive science. TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS considers itself a forum for cutting-edge research based on solid empirical data on language in its various manifestations, including sign languages. It regards linguistic variation in its synchronous and diachronic dimensions as well as in its social contexts as important sources of insight for a better understanding of the development of linguistic systems and the ecology and evolution of language. TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS publishes monographs and outstanding dissertations as well as edited volumes, which provide the opportunity to address controversial topics from different empirical and theoretical viewpoints. High quality standards are ensured through anonymous reviewing.

Vygotsky's Notebooks Ekaterina Zavershneva 2018-01-24 This book consists of previously unpublished manuscripts by Vygotsky found in the first systematic study of Vygotsky's family archive. The notebooks and scientific diaries gathered in this volume represent all periods of Vygotsky's scientific life, beginning with the earliest manuscript, entitled The tragicomedy of strivings (1912), and ending with his last note, entitled Pro domo sua (1934), written shortly before his death. The notes reveal unknown aspects of the eminent psychologist's personality, show his aspirations and interests, and allow us to gain insights into the development of his theories. In addition, the notes reveal the plans that Vygotsky was unable to realize during his lifetime, such as the creation of a theory of higher nervous activity, a pedagogical hypothesis, and his involvement in activities that were previously unknown, and still others provide outlines of papers and lectures. The notes are presented in chronological order, accompanied by selected and annotated sections.
