Recommendations to Enhance Companion Animal Emergency Management in New York State

Safeguarding Homeland Security Simon Halkin 2009-09-18 The terroristic attack of September 11, 2001, and the natural disasters of Hurricanes Katrina and Rita demonstrated the challenges that America faces today. America is in a state of emergency, and governments at all levels need to be prepared to respond to these and other emergency situations. This book will show individuals and governments how to respond to these situations and what actions to take in order to protect our country and all of its citizens.

Education @ the Speed of Thought

F. H. Norton 1991-01-01 A compelling look at how the Internet is changing our education system. Norton identifies the key elements of a new education model and explores how it will change the way we learn. It is essential for Information Age revolutionaries and technological neophytes alike.
