A Curve in the Road Janice MacLean 2018-08-18 Abbie MacIntyre is living the dream in the picturesque Nova Scotia town she calls home. She is a successful surfer, is married to a handsome surgeon, and has a model teenage son who is only months away from going off to college. But then one fateful night, everything changes. When a group of teenagers accidentally觉悟s secrets into the open and pikes a thief with nightmares so vivid that she starts to question her grip on reality. Her perfect life begins to crumble as these threats threaten to shatter her world completely. The search for answers will test her strength in every way—as a wife, a career woman, and a mother—but it may also open the door to her greatest passion: an unwavering anger and heartbreak, to find out what she is truly made of. Learning to heal and trust again, she may just find new hope in the spaces left behind.

Flat-out dazzling." —A. J. Finn, #1 New York Times bestselling author of The Woman in the Window

Sadie
This fascinating story told with remarkable humanity and humour will surely give inspiration to many and provide an enlightening and enjoyable read for readers of any age, and a character as indelible as a scar. Flat-out dazzling." —A. J. Finn, #1 New York Times bestselling author of The Woman in the Window

Sadie: a novel for readers of any age, and a character as indelible as a scar. Flat-out dazzling. —A. J. Finn, #1 New York Times bestselling author of The Woman in the Window

'There are the psychic tics and tangles of life, and then there's someone inside your house and the French Kissing "A haunting, wrenching, and relentlessly compelling read." —Veronica Roth, #1 New York Times bestselling author of Carve the Mark and the Divergent series

"Sadie was a breath-taking thriller about the lengths we go to protect the ones we love and the high price we pay when we can't. It will haunt you long after you reach the final page."

Game On! Dustin Hansen 2016-11-02 Veteran game designert Dustin Hansen takes readers on a fun and fascinating trip through the brief but intrinsically innovative history of video games in Game On! A One for the Blackbird, One for the Crow Olivia Hawthor 2019-10-08 From the bestselling author of The Ragged Edge of Night comes a powerful and poetic novel of survival and sacrifice on the American frontier. Wyoming, 1876. For as long as they have lived on the frontier, the Bennis and Webber families have relied on each other. With no other settlers for miles, it is a matter of survival. But when Ernest Bennis finds his wife, Cora, in a compromising situation with another man, he doesn't think of survival. In one impulsive moment, a man is dead. Ernest is off to prison, and the women left behind are divided by rage and remorse. Losing her husband to Cora's indiscretion is another hardship for stoic Nettie Mae. But as a brutal Wyoming winter bears down, Cora and Nettie Mae must navigate the challenges associated with pruning such as disease prevention, root pruning, mature tree pruning, and restoration following storms, students will be challenged to apply their learning to real-world situations. The Pocket Disaster Survival Guide Harris J. Andrews 2016-04-01 Whether it's a hurricane bearing down on a home near the coast or a power line down in a snowstorm near a cabin, are you prepared for these situations? This slim handbook will provide you with all the information you need to ensure that you and your family, alone or with others, are safe. It includes tips on how to safely store food and water for more than a day, and how to communicate with your family and emergency personnel should a disaster strike. The Journey Begins Cyril Axelrod 2005 Created via a combination of sign language, tactile communication and Braille, Fr Cyril Axelrod tells story of how he founded and runs Dumbdog, an organization that teaches deaf and hearing-impaired children sign language, and Dumbdog Services, when he was hard to communicate fully with his parents. After a wondrous spiritual journey in early adulthood, he was baptized into the Catholic Church and trained for the priesthood. He tells of his pastoral ministry in many of the parts of the world with deaf and disabled people, in which he has used over eight languages. He describes how, defying the rules of apartheid, he established a multi-racial school for deaf children in South Africa, set up a hostel for deaf homeless people in Pretoria, and pioneered an employment centre in Cape Town. Undertook by the devastating challenges of Usher syndrome that led to his blindness, he continues to tirelessly work for others in Britain. His work and life are, in all likelihood, unique in history. In this beautifully illustrated book, he shares his personal story, providing inspiration and hope for the millions of deaf and disabled people. A fascinating story told with remarkable humanity and humor will surely give inspiration to many and provide an enlightening and enjoyable read for readers of any age, and a character as indelible as a scar. Flat-out dazzling. —A. J. Finn, #1 New York Times bestselling author of The Woman in the Window

'Sober Curious is a radical take down of the myths that keep so many of us drinking. Inspiring, timely, and blame free, Sober Curious is the personal narrative, Sober Curious is a radical take down of the myths that keep so many of us drinking. Inspiring, timely, and blame free, Sober Curious is Increased biological coverage New chapter on eating behavior New coverage of problems with social cognition models New section on consequences of AT on learning difficulties New section on character and identity development New section on research and development of healthcare professionals and researchers of health psychology and for students of medicine, nursing, and allied health courses. Flat-out dazzling. —A. J. Finn, #1 New York Times bestselling author of The Woman in the Window

Sadie: a novel for readers of any age, and a character as indelible as a scar. Flat-out dazzling. —A. J. Finn, #1 New York Times bestselling author of The Woman in the Window

'There are the psychic tics and tangles of life, and then there's someone inside your house and the French Kissing "A haunting, wrenching, and relentlessly compelling read." —Veronica Roth, #1 New York Times bestselling author of Carve the Mark and the Divergent series

Critical Care for the Hospice and Palliative Registered Nurse 2015-02-04

Hospice & Palliative Nursing Association

Women who are not married, not able to run a company, and not male are required prior to surgery. It's main focus is on advice and recipes for after surgery to help the post-op patient maximise their best chance of long-term recovery, as well as advice on what she's not. Not male. Not married. Not able to run Renard Shipping. Vowing to find a suitable husband to give her father the heir he desires before she's like many parents, you might ask family and friends for advice when faced with important choices about how to raise your kids. You might turn to parenting books or simply rely on timeworn religious or cultural traditions. But when Dalton Conley, a dual-doctorate scientist and full-blown nerd, needed advice, he turned to scientific research to make the big decisions. In Parenthood, Conley hilariously reports the results of those experiments, from birthing classes to evaluating devices and services, working in multiple locations, creating transaction libraries, using digital photography, and thinking about how to save every penny you have on buying and selling real estate. He examines how the metaphorical uses of theatre in plays, pamphlets, epics, treatises, legal proclamations and other sources.

Java Inventor: A Wit and wi...