Dear Reader,

Thank you for picking up this magazine. Inside you will find a world of wonders. If you are like most people you will flick through and look at the art first. We are proud to feature gallery prints from iconic photographer Kim Weston. The art editor and I met Kim a few years ago at the Henry Miller Library over dinner, and have been trying to use her photos for our covers. It is ideal to the location and theme of River Teeth that we are able to feature work by an astounding member of the Weston dynasty. Tim You did an entire art exhibit based on a passage out of Henry Miller’s Tropic of Capricorn. We have a poem by Big Sur visitor and raconteur Richard Brautigan. This is a collection of short stories by the local author. We are fortunate to have so many talented people in the community that is the Henry Miller Memorial library, and are happy to have so many West Coast writers and artists featuring in this volume. We are also very lucky to have a turn of the century ocean view, as well as being able to own a film theatre, but it also is a fragile watershed. Our commitment to keeping this delicate ecosystem in check is part of the reason for this special fundraising campaign, in an effort to retrofit Emil White’s little cabin into a place that hosts such acts as Thurston Moore of Sonic Youth. I met Thurston on a deep afternoon at the library, and on to our table to break bread. But I do love listening to people’s stories. Thurston Moore and I talked about poetry and art under a persimmon tree, the interview featured herein is the fruit...The East Coast is always well represented since half of our editors live in Brooklyn, which I like to call the poetry capital of the U.S. of A. We have the wondrous poets Leah Danskby, J. Hope Stein, Joanna Penn Cooper and Angela Wong featured.
