Jessica, who grew up in Canada and lived in England, finds herself in Berlin. Alone. Lonely, with lowered spirits thanks to some family history and a broken heart, she is there, ostensibly, to write a thesis. And though that...

This is the astonishing story of having learned that he could survive in the harsh environment. This is the astonishing story of daring to take the first step away from urban routines and embracing a harsh yet immensely rewarding way of life which, in turn, led...

Leander, Webb, Weissmuller, and a host of others. Informed by the literature of Swinburne, Goethe, Scott Fitzgerald, and Yukio Mishima; the films of Riefenstahl and Vigo; the Hollywood “swimming musicals” of the 1930s;...

In Leanne Shapton’s engrossing account, Swimming with Seals, we meet a woman driven by a dual passion—nature and swimming. From her training for the Olympic trials as a teenager to enjoying pools and beaches around the world as an adult, Leanne offers us a window into the world of swimming.
