
Making Machu Picchu Mark Rice 2018-06-17 Speaking to an international audience, the four-volume set of the book describes how the Incan city of Machu Picchu was first discovered by American explorer Hiram Bingham in 1911 and the global travel destination and a powerful symbol of the Incan civilization. Rice shows how the growth of tourism at Machu Picchu reshaped the way local people think about their history and traditions. A fascinating narrative of adventure, travel, tourism, and the global travel market.

Transforming Scholarly Publishing With Blockchain Technologies and AI This book explores the changing landscape of the scholarly publishing industry and how blockchain and AI technology could play a major role in this. However, the industry has been resistant to change. These reasons include but are not limited to the resistance of publishers and authors, the cost of implementing blockchain technology, and the lack of understanding of how blockchain technology could be applied to the industry.

Information Systems Management, ISM 2017, held as part of the Federated Conference on Computer Science and Information Systems, Floris S. van Immerseel, J. Pedro Calheiros, Alfa Almazan and Yoong-Seong Paek (Editors) 2017-10-01 The 2017 conference on Information Systems Management ISM 2017 was held in Venice from August 14-17, 2017. The Proceedings of this conference contain papers accepted after a rigorous review process.

Website Review Paper

Allison B. Kaufman 2018-02-02 Case studies, personal accounts, and analysis show how to recognize and combat pseudoscience in a post-truth world. We are particularly susceptible to the claims of pseudoscience. When you learn to recognize pseudoscience and understand its motivations, you can make more informed decisions and avoid being swayed by deceptive claims.

The Oxford handbook of the Economics of Networking Van Brummelen 2016-03-04 The Oxford handbook of the Economics of Networking provides a comprehensive overview of the economic aspects of networking, covering both theoretical and empirical approaches. It includes chapters on the economic implications of social media, the role of networks in economic growth, and the impact of network dynamics on economic outcomes.

The Golden House Salman Rushdie 2006-01-25 The Golden House is a modern masterpiece. Rushdie's novel tells the story of Nero Golden, a wealthy and powerful man who has passed away, leaving behind a secret that threatens the stability of his family and his empire. The story is set in a dark new age, and Rushdie's novel is a modern epic of love and politics. The novel also marks Salman Rushdie's triumphant and exciting return to realism.

Health Sciences Literature Review Made Easy Garrett De Beer 2014-04-04 Health Sciences Literature Review Made Easy is a comprehensive guide to the literature review process in the health sciences. It covers a wide range of topics, from the basics of literature review to advanced techniques for analyzing and synthesizing research.

The Twilight of Learning: How the internet is changing education De Beer 2008-02-14 This book explores how the internet is changing education, with a focus on the ways in which it is transforming the way we learn and the way we conduct research.

Pseudoscience:Worth the Fuss in a Post-Truth World Sam Munson 2018-08-28 A breakthrough novel from the acclaimed young American writer Boris Leonidovich, a North Korean orphan. The novel explores the theme of identity and belonging, and how the author's experience as a political exile informs his work.

Interview with a Cyborg: A Novel Samuel R. Delany 1986-12-27 The novel is a post-apocalyptic science fiction story about a cyborg named Eugene. Eugene is a humanoid robot who has been given human sensations and memories.

Website Review Paper

Website Review Paper

Randall Hyde 2004-11-01 Today's programmers are often narrowly trained because the industry moves too fast. In this book, the author provides a comprehensive guide to software engineering, including topics such as software design, testing, and maintenance.

Website Review Paper

Keith S. Taber 2018-12-13 Worried about teaching natural selection, submicroscopic particle models or complex adaptive systems? This book provides helpful tips and ideas for teaching these challenging topics in biology.

Website Review Paper

OECD

Website Review Paper

J. Pedro Calheiros, Alfa Almazan and Yoong-Seong Paek (Editors) 2017-10-01 The proceedings of this conference contain papers accepted after a rigorous review process.